

NEW TO REGIONAL MEDIA? THE BOOMTOWN MASTERCLASS IS FOR YOU.

9.1 million Aussies (36%) now live in regional Australia and the ‘work from anywhere’ phenomenon is increasingly changing the face of Boomtown, as young professional families and digital nomads migrate out of capital cities to regional communities in record numbers.

Regional media cracked in under 2 hours

Aimed at media and marketing executives with 0-5 years' experience, Boomtown masterclasses provide an insider's view of the rapidly changing regional media landscape and its opportunities for brand growth and ROI, helping participants level-up their skills with the latest insights and tools to connect with our fast-growing, increasingly diverse and receptive audiences.

487 Boomtown alumni in FY21

Achieving a 9.3/10 average score from attendees, our masterclasses have also had a lasting impact on the hundreds of industry executives who joined us for sessions around the country in the past year.

'Ensuring that our clients and teams who create media strategies are fully across the channels, demographics, insights and tools to access these audiences is core to the Boomtown Masterclass, and a complete understanding of the value of growing regional media audiences has become even more important since has COVID changed the way we work, commute and stayed hyper local. The Boomtown Masterclass is an outstanding initiative.'
